Reimagining Trusteeship

Driving trust. Enabling transparency. Building the future.

India's financial ecosystem is entering a defining phase of transformation. Capital markets are deepening rapidly — corporate bond issuances crossed ₹10 Lakh Cr in outstanding volumes in FY26, REIT and InvIT markets surpassed ₹6 Lakh Cr in combined market capitalisation, and GIFT City's IFSC platform is steadily emerging as a genuine international financial hub. Investors today expect greater transparency, faster access to information and stronger governance standards. Regulators are driving digitisation, real-time supervision and enhanced fiduciary accountability across every layer of financial markets.

In this rapidly evolving environment, the role of trusteeship is being fundamentally redefined. No longer confined to documentation oversight and periodic compliance checks, trustees today sit at the intersection of governance, technology, risk intelligence and investor confidence. The trustee that positions itself correctly in this new environment will not merely be a service provider. It will be a structural pillar of market integrity.

At Axis Trustee Services Limited, we see this shift not as a challenge to manage, but as an opportunity to reimagine trusteeship itself. FY 2025-26 was the year that reimagining became real.

No longer confined to documentation oversight and periodic compliance checks, trustees today sit at the intersection of governance, technology, risk intelligence and investor confidence."

— Axis Trustee Services Limited, Annual Report FY26

From Institutional Trustee to Fintech Trustee

Over the years, Axis Trustee has built a strong institutional foundation across Debenture Trusteeship, Security Trusteeship, Facility Agency, Escrow Services, REITs, InvITs, Alternative Investment Funds and structured fiduciary solutions in GIFT City. In FY26, that foundation delivered its strongest commercial performance in the organization's history.

Revenue grew 27% year-on-year to ₹77 Cr. Profit After Tax surged 89% to ₹41 Cr. The cost-to-income ratio compressed from 49% to 42%, and return on equity reached 31%. New business grew 32%, driven by a deliberate shift towards value-added premium products, which now form the majority of the new business mix.

These results reflect not just market momentum, but the commercial output of a strategy that began several years ago: combining institutional fiduciary strength with technology-led transformation to build a future-ready platform for India's evolving financial ecosystem.

As part of this transformation journey, the organization is evolving into a Fintech Trustee model — one where intelligent systems, automation, digital platforms and AI-assisted monitoring strengthen governance, improve transparency and simplify stakeholder engagement. This evolution is not about surface-level digitisation. It is about fundamentally redesigning trusteeship to become predictive rather than reactive, continuous rather than episodic, technology-enabled rather than process-heavy, and customer-centric while maintaining strong governance discipline.

Chairman's message

Sustainable Growth Backed by Strong Governance

With a strong foundation and long-term perspective; ATSL is well positioned to create sustainable value leveraging technology, accountability and strong governance.

Dear Shareholders,

The financial year 2025-26 was another important year in the journey of your Company. Amidst a rapidly evolving financial landscape, Axis Trustee Services Limited continued to strengthen its institutional capabilities, deepen stakeholder trust and reinforce its position within India's growing fiduciary ecosystem.

India's financial system is undergoing a period of significant transformation. The continued expansion of capital markets, increasing investor participation, growth in structured finance and infrastructure-led development are together creating a more sophisticated financial environment. Alongside this growth, expectations around governance, transparency, investor protection and regulatory oversight have also become stronger and more nuanced.

In such an environment, the role of trusteeship is steadily becoming more central to the integrity and stability of the financial system. Trustees today are expected to do far more than perform traditional oversight functions. The market increasingly looks towards fiduciary institutions to provide independent monitoring, balanced judgement, early risk visibility and greater confidence to stakeholders across financial structures.

Your Company remains well positioned within this evolving landscape. Over the years, ATSL has built a strong institutional foundation anchored on governance, credibility, domain expertise and long-standing stakeholder relationships. These values continue to guide the organization as it expands its capabilities while maintaining the fiduciary discipline expected of a trusted institution.

During the year, the Company continued to make measured progress across key strategic priorities. Alongside business growth, considerable focus was placed on strengthening technology infrastructure, operational resilience, risk monitoring frameworks and service delivery capabilities. The Board remains encouraged by the organization's ability to adapt to changing market expectations while preserving the independence, prudence and integrity that define trusteeship.

The financial services industry is also witnessing a significant shift in the way technology is being deployed across governance and risk management functions. Data analytics, intelligent automation and digital monitoring tools are increasingly shaping how institutions oversee compliance obligations, identify emerging risks and enhance operational efficiency.

ATSL continues to invest in these capabilities with a long-term perspective. At the same time, the Board firmly believes that technology must always operate alongside human judgement, accountability and appropriate governance guardrails. As financial systems become more digital and interconnected, the importance of balanced oversight and responsible decision-making only becomes more critical.

The regulatory environment too continues to evolve with greater emphasis on transparency, investor protection, operational resilience and ease of doing business. Your Company remains committed to aligning itself proactively with these expectations while continuing to support the broader development of India's financial markets.

Looking ahead, India's long-term economic outlook and the continued deepening of its capital market ecosystem present significant opportunities for fiduciary and trustee institutions. With its strong market position, experienced leadership team and continued focus on institutional strengthening, your Company remains confident of creating sustainable long-term value for all stakeholders.

On behalf of the Board, I would like to express my sincere appreciation to our customers, regulators, business partners and shareholders for their continued trust and support. I also place on record my gratitude to the management team and employees whose commitment, professionalism and dedication continue to strengthen the institution year after year.

Warm regards,

MD & CEO's message

Powering the Next Era of Trusteeship

Driven by governance, compliance and the regulatory vision of Ease of Doing Business, we are building a technology-enabled trustee institution aligned to the evolving needs of India's financial markets.

Dear Shareholders,

India's financial markets are undergoing a period of structural expansion and increasing sophistication. The rapid growth of capital market-linked financing, infrastructure investments, alternative investment structures, private credit participation and institutional investor activity is steadily reshaping the architecture of the financial services ecosystem. In this evolving environment, trusteeship is no longer viewed merely as a compliance or monitoring function. Its role is becoming increasingly central to market confidence, governance integrity and investor protection. As financial structures become more complex and interconnected, the need for strong fiduciary institutions with deep domain expertise, operational resilience and technology-enabled oversight continues to grow.

At your Company, we have approached this transition with a clear long-term vision – to build a future-ready trustee institution anchored on governance, trust, operational discipline and customer-centricity.

FY26 was an important year in our journey. Your Company delivered strong financial and business performance, recording 27% year-on-year growth in revenue and 89% growth in Profit After Tax. Our Return on Equity improved to 31%, reflecting both business momentum and continued focus on operational efficiency and disciplined execution.

During the year, we witnessed healthy traction across several business segments, including facility agency, escrow trusteeship, structured finance and alternative investment-linked opportunities. We also continued to strengthen our position across REITs and InvITs, sectors that are becoming increasingly significant within India's infrastructure and real estate financing landscape.

These structures require robust governance frameworks, continuous monitoring capabilities and high levels of fiduciary oversight. Your Company remains committed to supporting issuers, lenders and investors through strong institutional capability, specialised domain expertise and disciplined execution standards.

We also continued to strengthen our presence in GIFT City and the broader international financial services ecosystem. As India advances its ambition of positioning GIFT City as a globally competitive financial centre, we see meaningful long-term opportunities emerging across AIFs, cross-border structures, orphan SPVs and international fiduciary solutions. Our expanding engagement in this space reflects both our strategic focus and our confidence in the evolution of India's global financial architecture.

Alongside this, we continued to diversify and deepen our core service offerings. The growing scale of our facility agency and escrow services businesses reflects increasing market demand for specialised transaction management, operational oversight and fund flow monitoring capabilities. We also continue to evaluate opportunities across emerging capital market products, structured debt solutions and digitally integrated fiduciary services aligned with evolving market requirements.

A significant focus area during the year was strengthening organizational capability and building a scalable operating model for the future. This included continued investments in talent, governance frameworks, digital infrastructure, internal controls, process transformation and customer experience enhancement.

We believe sustainable leadership in trusteeship cannot be achieved through scale alone. It requires institutional rigour, consistency of execution and the ability to evolve continuously alongside changing regulatory and market expectations.

In line with SEBI's emphasis on Ease of Doing Business ("EODB"), your Company accelerated several initiatives aimed at improving responsiveness, transparency and service delivery across stakeholder interactions. Through platforms such as PRISM and integrated workflow digitisation initiatives, we are simplifying engagement models, improving turnaround timelines and enhancing visibility across the fiduciary lifecycle while maintaining strong governance and compliance standards.

Our transformation journey also remains aligned with the broader "One Axis" philosophy. As part of the Axis ecosystem, we continue to benefit from a strong institutional foundation, a customer-focused culture and a shared commitment towards governance, innovation and long-term value creation. At the same time, we remain firmly committed to preserving the fiduciary independence and accountability that define the trustee function.

Technology, data analytics and Artificial Intelligence are also becoming increasingly important enablers within our operating architecture. From automated compliance monitoring and document validation to predictive risk alerts and intelligent surveillance capabilities, digital tools are helping improve efficiency, strengthen oversight and support proactive risk management.

However, our approach remains firmly grounded in the belief that technology must strengthen fiduciary judgement, not replace it.

At the heart of our growth strategy remains an unwavering focus on trust, governance and customer confidence. We continue to invest in stronger service frameworks, structured client engagement and operational responsiveness to ensure that customer experience evolves alongside business scale and regulatory expectations.

The progress achieved during the year reinforces our confidence in the direction we have chosen. We are building not merely a larger business, but a stronger and future-ready institution capable of supporting the evolving needs of India's financial markets.

As we move ahead, your Company remains committed to creating long-term value through disciplined growth, governance excellence, innovation and customer-centricity. With strong market positioning, expanding capabilities and the strength of the Axis franchise, we remain confident of our ability to contribute meaningfully to the next phase of modern trusteeship in India and beyond.

Guided by GPS

Growth. Profitability. Sustainability.

At Axis Trustee, our strategic direction is shaped by the Growth, Profitability and Sustainability (GPS) framework, which keeps us aligned with the larger One Axis ecosystem. As we move towards becoming the most trusted, technology-enabled and governance-led fiduciary institution in India, GPS serves as the foundation for sustainable growth across all that we do.

Our focus is on building a high-quality, well-diversified trusteeship and agency franchise, using technology to create differentiated value across the fiduciary lifecycle — from onboarding and covenant monitoring to servicing, compliance and reporting.

The clarity and direction provided by the framework allow us to deliver consistent performance across business lines, while keeping our focus on resilience and sustainability — strengthening our position as a future-ready Fintech Trustee.

We continue to strengthen our leadership across core fiduciary businesses and scale our franchise, including in GIFT City, with a deliberate shift towards higher-value, premium mandates

PROFITABILITY

Technology and operating leverage drive durable, high-quality earnings, allowing us to convert growth into sustainable returns for the franchise.

SUSTAINABILITY

Everything we do is anchored in governance, a gold standard in compliance and a future-ready organisation built on the right talent, technology and culture.

Technology-Led Transformation

Re-architecting trusteeship for a digital-first market

Traditional trusteeship models are increasingly becoming inadequate for rapidly evolving financial markets. The expectation gap between what legacy oversight frameworks can deliver and what modern issuers, investors and regulators require is widening with every passing year. Covenant monitoring that runs quarterly is insufficient when market conditions shift daily. Document review that depends on manual validation cannot scale to the volumes that India's growing bond market demands. Client servicing that relies on email and phone cannot meet the expectations of institutions accustomed to real-time digital engagement.

Axis Trustee is responding through a large-scale technology-led transformation focused on automation, intelligent monitoring and digital servicing architecture. Axis Trustee is making a sustained, multi-programme investment in automation, intelligent monitoring and digital servicing architecture to re-architect trusteeship for a digital-first market.

PRISM – The Digital Governance Layer

PRISM – launched on 17 April 2026 – is Axis Trustee's next-generation self-service platform and the industry's first 24x7 digital fiduciary portal. It should not be understood as a convenience tool or a document repository. PRISM is a digital governance layer: a platform that gives issuers, investors and internal teams structured visibility into transaction status, compliance positions and workflow progress, with full traceability and audit-readiness built in.

The platform delivers an estimated 40% reduction in turnaround time for routine service requests, with a commensurate reduction in manual intervention and its associated risk of error. It shifts the nature of client engagement from episodic and reactive to continuous and transparent. Issuers can track their covenant positions in real time. Investors access reporting and documentation on demand. Internal teams have clear ownership and escalation workflows.

PRISM is a commitment – to transparency, accountability, and making trusteeship visible in real time for every stakeholder who relies on us."

– Rahul Choudhary, MD & CEO, Axis Trustee Services Limited

AI as a Governance Multiplier

Artificial Intelligence is becoming central to the future of trusteeship. At Axis Trustee, AI is not replacing fiduciary judgment – it is amplifying it. The AI Centre of Excellence has been established with 8 high-impact use cases identified, vendor evaluation in advanced stages, and Microsoft Copilot tools deployed with training completed for core teams. A phased, governance-led implementation roadmap – Ready, Scale and Lead – that builds AI capability in a disciplined sequence.

Customer Centricity

Customer first. Always.

In trusteeship, customer experience cannot mean convenience alone. It must mean clarity, responsiveness, transparency and the confidence that fiduciary obligations are being monitored properly. The trustee that earns the deepest client trust is not the one that is easiest to transact with — it is the one whose clients have no doubt that their interests are being protected, that problems will surface before they become crises, and that engagement with the trustee will always yield useful, accurate and timely information.

Axis Trustee has formalised its commitment to this standard through the institutionalisation of Net Promoter Score measurement, the launch of PRISM and a structured programme to address the insights that client feedback reveals. Inspired by Axis Bank's Sparsh initiative, ATSL's NPS programme creates a direct connection between client sentiment, performance management and operating culture.

Regulatory Excellence

Governance beyond compliance

Governance remains the foundation of trusteeship. A trustee's credibility is measured not only by what it monitors, but by its ability to demonstrate, at any moment and to any audience, exactly how that monitoring was done. In an era of growing regulatory scrutiny, increasing market complexity and mounting evidence requirements, the trustee that can deliver the most credible, traceable and inspection-ready compliance framework will win.

Axis Trustee's approach to regulatory excellence is built on a foundational conviction: regulatory comfort depends on evidence. Not just that monitoring was done, but when it was done, how it was done, what was escalated, what was resolved and who was responsible. The entire internal control architecture is being rebuilt around this principle.

Leadership in REITs, InvITs and GIFT City

Expanding into the future of global finance

India's capital markets are witnessing rapid expansion across new-age structures. The REIT and InvIT market crossed ₹6 Lakh Cr in combined market capitalisation in FY26. Alternative Investment Funds registered with SEBI surpassed 1,400 schemes. And GIFT City's IFSC platform, with over 600 registered entities, is increasingly the instrument through which Indian and international capital flows are being structured, managed and monitored.

Axis Trustee continues to strengthen its position across all three segments. The organisation is the market leader in REIT and InvIT trusteeship and the #1 Facility Agent in GIFT City, recording strong double-digit growth across GIFT City segments in FY26. And it is one of the most active AIF trustees in India, with a 47% revenue growth in this segment driven by both domestic and GIFT City structures.

GIFT City Strategy

GIFT City contributed 29% of total operating revenue in FY26, up from 26% in FY25. We continue to pursue strategic partnerships with leading global and regional banks to expand our Facility Agency franchise in GIFT City. An IFSCA-approved Process Agent capability adds a further product layer to our GIFT City offering.

One Axis Synergy

The One Axis strategy is ATSL's single most powerful commercial lever. By systematically activating Axis Bank's client relationships, product flows and distribution channels in support of ATSL's fiduciary services business, the organization is building a structural competitive advantage that no standalone trustee can replicate.

People Powering Transformation

Building a future-ready organization

A technology-led transformation succeeds or fails on the people who drive it. At Axis Trustee, the organization's most important investment in FY26 was not in software or systems. It was in the capabilities, culture and confidence of the people who operate them.

The LEAP leadership development programme is building a bench of ready-now successors for every critical leadership role. Structured capability-building frameworks are ensuring that frontline teams have the skills to operate AI-assisted tools, interpret digital monitoring outputs and engage clients at the level of sophistication that premium fiduciary mandates demand. The organization targets 100% AI literacy across all teams by FY27 and is building the AI Centre of Excellence as a long-term capability platform, not a one-time technology initiative.

Key People Initiatives

- ◆ Leadership development programme building 100% ready-now successors for all critical roles by FY27: LEAP Programme
- ◆ 100% of core teams to be trained on AI tools and Copilot capabilities by end FY27: AI Literacy
- ◆ Structured upskilling across compliance, legal and operations teams on digital monitoring systems, eKYC platforms and PRISM administration: Technology Readiness
- ◆ Structured identification and development of high-potential talent across all functions: Succession Planning
- ◆ Diversity, equity and inclusion metrics embedded in people strategy and tracked quarterly: DEI Commitment
- ◆ Health and wellness programme expanded in FY26; employee engagement surveys conducted bi-annually: Employee Wellbeing

Culture of Institutional Excellence

Axis Trustee's culture combines institutional discipline with an innovation mindset. The organization expects every team member to hold both qualities simultaneously: the rigour of a fiduciary operating in a regulated environment and the curiosity of a technology-enabled institution building for the future.

This culture is reinforced through performance management that links individual outcomes to organizational priorities, a clearcode of conduct and ethics framework with zero tolerance for breaches, and a collaborative work environment that encourages knowledge-sharing and cross-functional problem-solving.

The organization's HYSAC appointment and growing regulatory engagement create additional professional development opportunities for leadership, deepening understanding of India's capital market architecture and positioning ATSL teams at the frontier of fiduciary thinking.

The Road Ahead

Building the benchmark for modern trusteeship

The future of trusteeship will be defined by intelligent governance, predictive monitoring, AI-assisted oversight, digital-first engagement and seamless transparency. The organizations that will lead this future are those that are building these capabilities now - not waiting for the regulatory environment to mandate them, not treating technology as an operational convenience, but recognising that the intersection of governance and technology is where institutional trust is earned in the 21st century.

Axis Trustee is building at that intersection. The financial results of FY26 – ₹77 Cr revenue, ₹41 Cr PAT, 31% ROE, 42% cost-to-income – are the early outputs of a transformation that is still accelerating. The launch of PRISM in April 2026, the establishment of the AI CoE, the GIFT City franchise expansion and deepening One Axis synergy are structural foundations, not one-year events.

Our ambition is to establish a new benchmark for modern trusteeship – where technology enhances trust, governance becomes more intelligent, and customers are genuinely empowered. We are building capabilities not only for the current market, but for the future architecture of India's debt capital market ecosystem

— Rahul Choudhary, MD & CEO, Axis Trustee Services Limited

As India's financial ecosystem evolves at digital speed, Axis Trustee remains committed to building a fiduciary institution prepared not only for today's markets, but for the future architecture of global finance. The ambition is clear: to become the most trusted, the most technology-enabled and the most governance-led fiduciary institution in India. The foundation is built. The momentum is real. The road ahead is ours to lead.

Trust Beyond Business: Creating Enduring Social Impact

At Axis Trustee Services Limited, our commitment to creating long-term value extends beyond our business responsibilities. Through the spirit of One Axis, we are proud to partner with Axis Bank Foundation, to support initiatives that create sustainable and meaningful impact across communities.

Axis Bank Foundation has been at the forefront of driving large-scale social change through focused interventions in livelihoods, skilling, education, and rural development. By leveraging the Foundation's deep grassroots presence and implementation expertise, Axis Trustee contributes to CSR initiatives that align with our shared vision of enabling inclusive growth and fostering self-reliance among underserved communities.

Reflecting on the impact of the Sustainable Livelihood Programme, Rahul Choudhary, MD & CEO, Axis Trustee Services Limited, shared:

"As a custodian of long-term trust, our responsibility is to ensure that commitments translate into outcomes that can hold over time. Within the Sustainable Livelihood Programme, this is reflected in the way young people from underserved backgrounds are being supported to access guidance, build relevant skills, and move into meaningful employment. What stands out is the consistency with which this is being carried out—through close engagement with communities, building capacities of grassroots partners and a clear focus on strengthening the local ecosystems that support these transitions. Such consistency is critical to ensuring that progress is not episodic, but sustained, and supported by a research-based programme design. Our role is to ensure that these efforts remain aligned to their purpose—clear in design, accountable in execution, and resilient over time. When that discipline is maintained, outcomes tend to endure and support long-term self-reliance."

Lives & Livelihoods

Building the benchmark for modern trusteeship

In rural India, people's livelihoods depend on local economies, community ties, natural resources, and traditions. Rural sector is central to primary production—crops, livestock, dairy, textiles, and artisanal goods—and is also engaged in essential services like education, healthcare, and other public service. However, the benefit of economic progress is uneven across households.

Rural households face challenges such as shrinking landholding, climate change, water shortages, weak market links, and limited skills restrict opportunities. Changing aspirations and growing economic pressures have led fewer young people to pursue traditional jobs, preferring to migrate, or remain under employed. These challenges, largely beyond their control, have become routine aspects of daily life.

Established in 2011 by Axis Bank Foundation, the Sustainable Livelihood Programme (SLP) is structured to empower rural households by enhancing their capacity, improving access, and fostering sustained engagement towards the betterment of their lives and livelihoods. The programme operates in various regions nationwide, with a particular emphasis on areas where poverty is more prevalent, such as aspirational districts and rainfed areas. It specifically targets cohorts including small and marginal farmers, landless, tribal regions, women, youth, artisans and disadvantaged groups, adopting a tailored approach to address their unique needs and of the landscape.

The programme is dedicated to fostering opportunities that enhance both lives and livelihoods by systematically integrating contemporary knowledge with traditional practices, establishing a robust platform of individuals and processes that promote inclusion and sustain growth. Capacity-building initiatives are embedded within these platforms, including training, exposure visits, peer-to-peer learning, and group formation to facilitate collective action. To complement capacity building, access is enabled, access to technology, advanced agricultural techniques, financial planning and resources, markets, and various social welfare schemes. Lastly, its engagement of people within their communities, with Panchayati Raj Institutions (PRIs), with three-tier institutions promoted by the National Rural Livelihood Mission, with market actors, and with other stakeholders stabilize pathways for improving lives and livelihoods.

The combined approach of Capacity, Access, and Engagement is applied across various areas that further influence their capability to produce remunerative outcomes, such as Natural Resource Management, farm productivity, livestock management, enterprise development, and health.

Capacity for natural resource management is developed by facilitating village-level or watershed-level planning, with access enhanced through integration with the PRI system and encouragement of collective action for effective resource stewardship. Demonstrated outcomes include improved water accessibility, enhanced soil moisture conservation, afforestation, development of pasture lands, increased availability of fodder and water for livestock, formation of collaborative user groups, fair access for all users, and consistent maintenance over time. In FY 25-26, 45,000+ hectares of land were brought under watershed management, 1.2 million trees were planted as afforestation and horticulture, 3,500+ major and minor lift irrigation systems were made functional, and 2,500 hectares of pastureland were restored.

Improved access to water enables higher cropping intensity, supporting multiple harvest cycles and resulting in a meaningful increase in farm productivity. This is further reinforced by more reliable water availability, shifts in crop patterns, the introduction of horticulture and floriculture, improved seed quality, and more weather-appropriate crop choices. Productivity benefits from lower input costs, the use of locally made organic manure and seeds, innovative cultivation techniques, adoption of small tools and micro-irrigation systems, and a shift to renewable energy. Local farming communities foster engagement by sharing best practices, organizing collective input purchases, and aggregating produce for sale, as well as processing harvests as value addition, resulting in better prices realizations. In FY 25-26, 368,000 households were supported with livelihood planning, 345,000 households were supported for Kharif (monsoon farming), and 419,000 households were supported for Rabi (winter farming).

Livestock is integral to rural lives. In various regions, rural households have traditionally reared livestock. To enhance income from livestock, communities are capacitated on breed improvement and better management practices for upkeep, health, and feed. Efforts are made to connect with higher-paying markets and local markets, to source improved quality of feed, and with the public veterinary care system. Additionally, participation is encouraged in forming collectives to jointly purchase feed, manage pasture lands for better water and fodder access, and for aggregated sales. In FY 25-26, over 200,000 households were supported to improve their livelihoods through livestock.

In rural areas, artisans represent the second largest workforce after farmers. Their primary source of income is derived from the creation of handcrafted goods, a process that involves multiple interconnected stages with several households involved in the value chain. As consumer preferences have evolved, the functional relevance of handmade products has diminished, transforming them into sought-after aspirational items. Nonetheless, the emergence of interest in artisanal craftsmanship presents new market opportunities for artisans. Access is facilitated to contemporary markets by fostering product innovation, incorporating seasonal color palettes, enhancing quality standards, and stabilizing production capacity. Artisans are capacitated to develop competencies in product design, market analysis, customer engagement, and digital tool utilization. Collectively, these measures are progressively strengthening or revitalizing income prospects and encouraging younger generations to consider traditional crafts as a sustainable career path. In FY 25-26, 5,000+ artisans were supported.

Interest in self-employment is rapidly growing among rural youth. Anticipating increased demand for non-traditional goods and services in rural areas presents significant opportunities for young individuals to establish small businesses. Aspirational youth are supported through access to various government schemes to provide subsidies and are capacitated to carry out market research, product and service testing, business plan development, financial literacy, competition analysis, unit economics, and fundamental management skills necessary to start or operate profitable enterprises. Additionally, engagement with other entrepreneurs is fostered to build supportive networks. In FY 25-26, 21,000+ entrepreneurs were supported.

Good health is fundamental to overall well-being and resilient livelihoods. In rural India, poor health outcomes remain closely linked to persistent intergenerational poverty, particularly for women. Sustained progress requires strengthening health-seeking behaviour through improved awareness, better access to public health systems, and deeper engagement with frontline providers across various life stages and groups, including infants, pregnant women, young mothers, adolescents, and youth. Our programme is enabling this shift and facilitating intentional change toward better health consciousness. In FY 25-26, 103,000+ women were trained in better health-seeking practices, 28,000 households were supported with Water, Sanitation and Hygiene (WASH) initiatives, 5,000 health camps were organized, and 22,000 households were linked with various health schemes.

Rural challenges are dynamic and interconnected, requiring responses that go beyond short-term support. Building on two completed phases, the Sustainable Livelihood Programme has now entered its Mission 4 Million phase, with a sharper focus on scale and depth. Efforts are directed toward strengthening local capacities, deepening institutional linkages, and enabling meaningful community participation. This approach seeks to build resilient, adaptive rural systems that can sustain long-term improvements in incomes and quality of life.

As of March 31, 2026, Mission 4 Million supported 2.76 million rural households across 33,517 villages, across 32 States and Union Territories. This includes: 2.65 million rural households and 1,12,597 youth trained in vocational skills which included 31,394 people with disabilities.

FY 2025-26 HIGHLIGHTS:

712,879 households have been positively impacted, of which this includes:

693,076 were rural households

19,803 were youth trained in vocational skills, including 6,349 PWDs

Using skill training to move from household duties to paid work, Maharashtra

Where it started

Rina, originally from a small village in Maharashtra, grew up in a household where her father worked as a labourer and both her parents had studied only up to the 4th standard. The family managed on an income of about Rs 15,000 per month, making financial stability challenging. After completing her 12th standard, Rina got married and moved to a city, where she now lives with her husband's joint family. Her husband works as a necklace maker, but his income alone was not enough to meet all household needs. This encouraged Rina to look for opportunities to build her own career and contribute to the family income more actively.

The turning point

Adjusting to a new environment while managing daily responsibilities, Rina began exploring ways to develop her skills professionally. Her turning point came when she joined a skill-building programme that offered structured and technical training for customer service job opportunities. The sessions helped her learn skills required in customer-facing roles—such as problem-solving, service orientation, managing expectations, conflict resolution, and effective communication. She also built practical competencies like digital literacy and grooming etiquette. As she participated in group discussions, role plays, and guided activities, Rina became more assured about applying for jobs and presenting herself confidently.

What changed after

With her new skills in place, Rina secured her first job as a Customer Service Associate with Reliance, earning Rs 15,384 per month. This steady additional income eased the financial strain on her entire household and marked her entry into the formal workforce. Rina now balances her responsibilities while gaining work experience and remains focused on building a more secure future for her family. Her journey highlights how determination, combined with structured training, can create pathways for women seeking stable careers.

Stepping out of her shell to shape new possibilities, Maharashtra

Where it started

Neeta, a 22-year-old youth from Maharashtra, lives with her parents, younger brother, and younger sister. Her parents, both educated up to the 4th standard, run a small tiffin business that supports the family's monthly income of around Rs 22,000. Each morning, Neeta helps prepare lunch boxes before beginning her own studies. Although determined to do well and secure a job after graduating, she often felt held back by shyness and hesitation when speaking in groups and saw this as a hindrance to her securing employment.

The turning point

Neeta's journey began to shift when she started attending sessions at a skill development training centre. Every afternoon, after helping at home, she travelled more than 40 minutes for training and later went on to night college for her higher education. Managing this routine required steady discipline. During the sessions, she learnt essential logistics skills—efficient packing techniques, basic inventory handling, scanning, quality checking, and maintaining warehouse safety practices. Alongside these technical skills, she took part in group discussions, role plays, and other collaborative activities that gradually helped her speak more comfortably. With support from facilitators and encouragement from peers, Neeta slowly grew more confident expressing herself.

What changed after

As Neeta continued practicing her new skills, she became more at ease interacting with others and speaking up during placement processes. The confidence she built through training soon translated into an opportunity: she secured her first job with Express HR Solutions as a Packer, earning Rs 13,500 per month. This additional income eased financial pressure at home and allowed her to continue her higher education without interruption. Today, Neeta balances her responsibilities across home, college, and work with greater clarity.

Audit Report

Independent Auditor's Report

To the Members of Axis Trustee Services Limited

Report on the Audit of the Financial Statements

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Axis Trustee Services Limited ("the Company"), which comprise the Balance Sheet as at March 31, 2026, the Statement of Profit and Loss and Statement of Cash Flows for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the aforesaid financial statements give the information required by the Companies Act, 2013 in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, of the state of affairs of the Company as at March 31, 2026, its profit and its cash flows for the year ended on that date.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing (SAs) specified under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013. Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements under the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 and the Rules thereunder, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Information Other than the Financial Statements and Auditor's Report Thereon

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Board's Report but does not include the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether such other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements, or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the matters stated in Section 134(5) of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act") with respect to the preparation of these financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance, and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the Accounting Standards specified under Section 133 of the Act.

This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the Board of Directors is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Board of Directors either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Board of Directors is also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

- Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion.
- Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Standards on Auditing will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.
- As part of an audit in accordance with Standards on Auditing, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:
 - Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls with reference to Financial Statements in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
 - Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management
 - Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
 - Evaluate the overall presentation, structure, and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
4. Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the financial statements.
 5. We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.
 6. We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

ANNEXURE – B TO THE INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT OF EVEN DATE ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS OF AXIS TRUSTEE SERVICES LIMITED

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

We have audited the internal financial controls with reference to financial statements of Axis Trustee Services Limited ("the Company") as of March 31, 2026 in conjunction with our audit of the financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ('ICAI'). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to Company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls with reference to financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") and the Standards on Auditing, issued by ICAI and deemed to be prescribed under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls with reference to financial statements. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls with reference to financial statements was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system with reference to financial statements and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls with reference to financial statements included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls with reference to financial statements, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system with reference to financial statements.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls with reference to financial statements

A Company's internal financial control with reference to financial statements is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A Company's internal financial control with reference to financial statements includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the Company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the Company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the Company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the Company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls with reference to financial statements

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls with reference to financial statements, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls with reference to financial statements to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control with reference to financial statements may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls with reference to financial statements and such internal financial controls with reference to financial statements were operating effectively as at March 31, 2026, based on the internal control with reference to financial statements criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

2.1 Summary of significant accounting policies

(a) Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Indian GAAP requires the management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of revenue, expenses, assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent liabilities during and at the end of reporting period. The estimates and assumptions used in the accompanying financial statements are based upon management's evaluation of the relevant facts and circumstances as on the date of financial statements. Accounting estimates could change from period to period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Appropriate changes in the estimates are made as the Management becomes aware of changes in circumstances surrounding estimates. Changes in estimates are reflected in the financial statements in the in the period in which changes are made and, if material, their effects are disclosed in the notes to the financial statements.

All assets and liabilities have been classified as current or non-current as per the Company's normal operating cycle, and other criteria set out in the Schedule III to the Companies Act 2013. Based on the nature of products and the time between the acquisition of assets for processing and their realisation in cash and cash equivalents, the Company has ascertained its operating cycle as up to twelve months for the purpose of current/non-current classification of assets and liabilities.

(b) Retirement and other employee benefits

(i) Short-Term Employee Benefits:

All employee benefits payable wholly within twelve months of rendering the services are classified as short-term employee benefits. These benefits include salaries and wages, bonus, ex-gratia and compensated absences such as paid annual leave. The undiscounted amount of short-term employee benefits expected to be paid in exchange for the services rendered by employees is charged to the Statement of profit and loss in the period in which such services are rendered.

(ii) Post-employment benefits

Defined contribution plan

The Company's provident fund contribution paid / payable under the recognised provident fund scheme and the employees' state insurance contribution is recognised as an expense in the Statement of profit and loss during the year in which the employee renders the related service.

Defined benefit plan

The Company's gratuity benefit scheme is a defined benefit plan. The Company's net obligation in respect of the gratuity benefit scheme is calculated by estimating the amount of future benefit that employees have earned in return for their services in the current and prior periods. These benefits are discounted to determine its present value, and the fair value of any plan assets, if any, is deducted therefrom.

The present value of the obligation under such defined benefit plans is determined based on actuarial valuation by an independent actuary at each balance sheet date, using the Projected Unit Credit Method, which recognises each year of service as giving rise to an additional unit of employee benefit entitlement and measures each unit separately to build up the final obligation. The obligations are measured at the present value of the estimated future cash flows. The discount rates used for determining the present value of the obligations under the defined benefit plan are based on the market yields on government bonds as at the balance sheet date. All actuarial gains and losses arising during the year are recognised in the statement of profit & loss.

(iii) Other long-term employment benefits

Compensated absences which are not expected to occur within twelve months after the end of the year in which the employee renders the related services are recognised as a liability at the present value of the defined benefit obligations at the balance sheet date based on actuarial valuation by an independent actuary using the Projected Unit Credit Method. The discount rates used for determining the present value of the obligation are based on the market yields on government bonds as at the balance sheet date.

(c) Employee stock options and Restricted share units ('RSU') with continued employment conditions

The Company determines the compensation cost based on fair value method. This amount is recognized in "Employee benefits expense" in the Statement of Profit and Loss over the vesting period. Axis Trustee Services Limited has granted Employee Stock Options ('ESOPs') to certain employees of the Company. The ESOPs belong to Axis Bank Limited (Holding Company).

(d) Property, Plant and Equipment

"Property, Plant & Equipments" are carried at cost of acquisition including any attributable cost for bringing the asset to its working condition for its intended use and the initial estimate of the costs of decommissioning, restoration and similar liabilities, less accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses.

Estimated costs of decommissioning, restoration and similar liabilities are discounted to its present value taking pre-tax rates that reflect(s) current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the liability as a basis for discounting.

Depreciation (including additions/deletions) on tangible assets is calculated on a pro - rata basis from the date of such additions/deletions on Straight Line method based on rates derived from useful life of assets and in the manner prescribed in Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013.

Computer Server	3 years

(e) Impairment of property, plant and equipment and intangible assets

In accordance with AS 28 on 'Impairment of Assets', where there is an indication of impairment of the Company's assets, the carrying amounts of the Company's assets are reviewed at each reporting date / balance sheet date to determine whether there is any indication of impairment. For assets in respect of which any such indication exists, the asset's recoverable amount is estimated. An impairment loss is recognised if the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount.

For the purpose of impairment testing, assets are grouped together into the smallest group of assets (cash generating unit or CGU) that generates cash inflows from continuing use that are largely independent of the cash inflows of other assets or CGUs.

The recoverable amount of an asset or CGU is the greater of its value in use and its net selling price. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows expected to arise from the continuing use of the assets and from its disposal at the end of its useful life, or reasonable estimate thereof, are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset or CGU.

Impairment losses are recognised in the Statement of profit and loss. However, an impairment loss on a revalued asset is recognised directly against any revaluation surplus to the extent that the impairment loss does not exceed the amount held in the revaluation surplus for that same asset. Impairment loss recognised in respect of a CGU is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to the CGU, and then to reduce the carrying amounts of the other assets in the CGU on a pro rata basis.

If at the balance sheet date there is an indication that a previously assessed impairment loss no longer exists or has decreased, the assets or CGU's recoverable amount is estimated. For assets other than goodwill, the impairment loss is reversed to the extent that the asset's carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation or amortisation, if no impairment loss had been recognised. Such a reversal is recognised in the Statement of profit and loss; however, in the case of revalued assets, the reversal is credited directly to revaluation surplus except to the extent that an impairment loss on the same revalued asset was previously recognised as an expense in the Statement of profit and loss.

(f) Intangible Assets

Intangible assets acquired separately are measured on initial recognition at cost. The cost of intangible assets acquired in an amalgamation in the nature of purchase is their fair value as at the date of amalgamation. Following initial recognition, intangible assets are carried at cost less accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Internally generated intangible assets, excluding capitalized development costs, are not capitalized and expenditure is reflected in the statement of profit and loss in the year in which the expenditure is incurred.

Intangible assets are amortized on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful economic life. The company uses a rebuttable presumption that the useful life of an intangible asset will not exceed ten years from the date when the asset is available for use. If the persuasive evidence exists to the affect that useful life of an intangible asset exceeds ten years, the company amortizes the intangible asset over the best estimate of its useful life. Such intangible assets and intangible assets not yet available for use are tested for impairment annually, either individually or at the cash-generating unit level. All other intangible assets are assessed for impairment whenever there is an indication that the intangible asset may be impaired.

The amortization period and the amortization method are reviewed at least at each financial year end. If the expected useful life of the asset is significantly different from previous estimates, the amortization period is changed accordingly. If there has been a significant change in the expected pattern of economic benefits from the asset, the amortization method is changed to reflect the changed pattern. Such changes are accounted for in accordance with AS 5 Net Profit or Loss for the Period, Prior Period Items and Changes in Accounting Policies.

Gains or losses arising from derecognition of an intangible asset are measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and are recognized in the statement of profit and loss when the asset is derecognized.

(g) Revenue recognition

Revenue is recognized to the extent that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company and the revenue can be reliably measured. Annual Fees for trusteeship services and servicing fees are recognized, on a straight line basis, over the period when services are performed. Initial acceptance fees for trusteeship services is recognized as and when the 'Offer Letter' for the services to be rendered is accepted by the customer. Interest income on fixed deposits is recognized on a time proportion basis taking into account the amount outstanding and the applicable interest rate. Interest income is included under the head "Other income" in the statement of profit and loss.

Realized gains and losses on mutual funds are dealt with in the statement of profit and loss. The cost of units in mutual fund sold are determined on First In First Out (FIFO) basis for the purpose of calculating gains or losses on sale/redemption of such units.

Dividend income is recognized when the company's right to receive dividend is established by the reporting date.

(h) Segment information

The Company is engaged primarily in the trusteeship business and its business operations are concentrated in India. Accordingly, there are no separate business segments and geographical segments as per Accounting Standard 17 – Segment Reporting issued by The Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

Notes to financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2026

(i) Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders (after deducting attributable taxes) by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period.

For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings per share, the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders and the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period are adjusted for the effects of all dilutive potential equity shares.

(j) Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents for the purpose of Cash Flow Statement comprise cash at bank and in hand and short-term investment with an original maturity of three months or less.

(k) Cash flow statement

Cash flows are reported using the indirect method, whereby profit before tax is adjusted for the effects of transactions of a non-cash nature, any deferrals or accrual of past or future operating cash receipts or payments or items of income or expense associated with investing or financial cash flows. The cash flows from operation, financing and investing activities are segregated.

(l) Investments

Investments, which are readily realizable and intended to be held for not more than one year from the date on which such investments are made, are classified as current investments. All other investments are classified as long-term investments.

On initial recognition, all investments are measured at cost. The cost comprises purchase price and directly attributable acquisition charges such as brokerage, fees and duties. If an investment is acquired, or partly acquired, by the issue of shares or other securities, the acquisition cost is the fair value of the securities issued. If an investment is acquired in exchange for another asset, the acquisition is determined by reference to the fair value of the asset given up or by reference to the fair value of the investment acquired, whichever is more clearly evident.

Current investments are carried in the financial statements at lower of cost and fair value determined on an individual investment basis. Long-term investments are carried at cost. However, provision for diminution in value is made to recognize a decline other than temporary in the value of the investments.

On disposal of an investment, the difference between its carrying amount and net disposal proceeds is charged or credited to the statement of profit and loss.

(m) Leases

Leases under which the Company assumes substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership are classified as finance leases. Assets acquired under leases other than finance leases are classified as operating leases.

The lease term is the non-cancellable period for which the lessee has agreed to take on lease the asset together with any further periods for which the lessee has the option to continue the lease of the asset, with or without further payment, which option at the inception of the lease it is reasonably certain that the lessee will exercise.

Assets taken on operating lease

The total lease rentals (including scheduled rental increases) in respect of assets taken on operating leases are charged to the Statement of profit and loss on a straight line basis over the lease term unless another systematic basis is more representative of the time pattern of the user's benefit.

(n) Translation of Foreign Currency

Foreign currency transactions are recorded into India rupees using the exchange rates prevailing on the date of the respective transactions. Exchange difference arising on foreign currency transactions, between the actual rate of settlement and the rate on the date of the transactions, is charged or credited to the Statement of profit and loss.

Foreign currency income and expenditure items of domestic operations are translated at the exchange rates prevailing on the date of the transaction. Income and expenditure items of integral foreign operations (representative offices) are translated at the weekly average closing rates and of non-integral foreign operations (foreign branches and offshore banking units) at the monthly average closing rates. Outstanding foreign currency monetary items of domestic and integral foreign operations are translated at the closing exchange rates notified by Foreign Exchange Dealers' Association of India (FEDAI) as at the Balance Sheet date and the resulting net revaluation profit or loss is recognised in the Profit and Loss Account.

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies as at the Balance sheet date are translated at the exchange rates prevailing on the Balance sheet date and the overall net exchange gain or loss on such conversion, if any, is credited / charged to the Statement of profit and loss. Non monetary assets are recorded at the rates prevailing on the date of the transactions. Non-monetary foreign currency items are carried at historical cost.

(o) Income taxes

Income-tax expense comprises current tax (i.e. amount of tax for the period determined in accordance with the income-tax law) and deferred tax charge or credit (reflecting the tax effects of timing differences between accounting income and taxable income for the period).

Current tax

Provision for current tax is recognised in accordance with the provisions of the Income tax Act, 1961 and is made based on the tax liability using the applicable tax rates and tax laws after taking credit for tax allowances and exemptions. Current tax is measured at the amount expected to be paid to the income-tax authorities in accordance with the Income tax Act, 1961. In computing the current tax provision, eligible deductions and benefits, including deduction under Section 80LA in respect of profits derived from eligible business carried on in an International Financial Services Centre (IFSC), are considered based on management's assessment of eligibility and compliance with the applicable provisions of the Act.

Deferred tax

Deferred tax is recognised in respect of timing differences between taxable income and accounting income i.e. differences that originate in one period and are capable of reversal in one or more subsequent periods. The deferred tax charge or credit and the corresponding deferred tax liabilities or assets are recognised using the tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the Balance sheet date.

Deferred tax assets are recognised only to the extent there is reasonable certainty that the assets can be realised in future; however, where there is unabsorbed depreciation or carried forward loss under taxation laws, deferred tax assets are recognised only if there is a virtual certainty supported by convincing evidence that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which such deferred tax assets can be realised. Deferred tax assets are reviewed as at each Balance sheet date and written down or written-up to reflect the amount that is reasonably/virtually certain (as the case may be) to be realised.

(p) Provisions

A provision is recognized when the Company has a present obligation as a result of past event; it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of obligation. Provisions are not discounted to its present value and are determined based on best estimate required to settle the obligation at the reporting date. These estimates are reviewed at each reporting date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates.

A provision for doubtful debts is recognized where, in the case of Initial Acceptance Fees, the receivables are not realized within 90 days from the date of invoice, and in the case of Annual Fees, the receivables are not received within 90 days from the end of the period for which the invoice is issued. Where doubtful debt remains unrecovered till the end of the year, the same is written off and reversed from the debtors account. Specific provisions are created in certain cases where recovery is assessed as doubtful even before the due date.

(q) Contingent Liabilities

A contingent liability is a possible obligation that arises from past events whose existence will be confirmed by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events beyond the control of the Company or a present obligation that is not recognized because it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation. A contingent liability also arises in extremely rare cases where there is a liability that cannot be recognized because it cannot be measured reliably. The Company does not recognize a contingent liability but discloses its existence in the financial statements.
